

Happy New Year

Published 2/8/2011

First, I'd like to start off by saying Happy New Year to all. 2010 was a challenging, yet rewarding year. A hearty congratulation goes out to our Systems Team for receiving the DON/IT Excellence Award for 2010.

As we continue our efforts in refining our business processes, your patience over these past several months has been most appreciated. We are currently in the process of updating the IMSD Main Page and Team pages. This new look will provide you with the most current news and happenings within IMSD. Most importantly, it provides you with our stated goals, objectives and actions (implementing/sustaining) as identified in the PM Ammunition Strategic Plan. Within each of the Resource/Information Centers, you will find a wealth of substantive information relevant to accomplishing the IMSD mission. We hope you will find this information both beneficial and useful, as it is the driver for our success.

As always, we appreciate your continued support and highly encourage your questions, comments and feedback. I look forward to and welcome the challenges of 2011 as we continue to evolve.
